Paul Cummings - Golf Instructor

Paul Cummings is a Professional Golf Coach from Edinburgh, Scotland. He now lives and works in Oakville, Ontario.

Paul trained as a caddy in St. Andrews, Scotland before becoming a teaching professional and brings a wealth of golf knowledge and experience from teaching and caddying in Spain, Scotland and England.

Paul aims to change the way the game is taught and learned, and is passionate about coaching the whole game rather than just the swing. His conversational style and story-telling ability puts clients at ease and allows them to discover their own games.

Rafael Kalamat - Golf Instructor

Playing the game from the age of 9, Rafael Kalamat developed his desire to teach while working at the Dorval Golf Club in 1998 and became a certified teaching professional soon thereafter. In the years since, Rafael has enthusiastically set out to be a great golf instructor and coach. He has steadily built a reputation as an instructor with over 20+ years of experience.

Rafael began his career studying under well-known pros such as PGA professionals Dave Hill, Bob HoGarth, Hank Haney and touring pro and founder of the PGA Canadian Tour, Bob Beauchemin. After working at various golf clubs including the Royal Montreal Golf Club, Rafael developed his golf schools at several locations. His golf instruction has given him the opportunity to teach in places such as Florida, the Caribbean and Dubai.

Rafael enjoys working with beginners as well as the low handicapper. He works with his students to develop an accurate plan to improve the flight of their golf ball. By giving cause and effect analogies, coupled with physical hands on examples, the student and instructor can create a unique relationship that will produce positive results

Rafael has worked as a golf analyst at four Canadian Open Championships and the Presidents Cup. His peers honoured him in 2010 when he was recognized as a United States Golf Teachers Federation Top 100 college and professional events

"My philosophy as a teacher is to teach my students to become their own best teacher while keeping the game of golf FUN" – Rafael

Rowan Nicol- Golf Instructor

I have been a Golf Professional for 25 years and became a CPGA pro at White Oaks Golf Club for 6 years, then moved to Pro Golf Mississauga and taught out of Tip of the Tee and The Old Pro driving range. I worked for the Golf Channel for 5 years. I have also maintained my professional level playing skills and currently compete on the Great lakes tour.

My personal plan is to qualify for the Champions Tour in a few years. I am a left-handed golfer; I am not a method teacher... I look at the individual and their personal traits and help build them a golf swing that is their own.
